

DISC Workplace Behaviour Assessment

A better self-awareness can create a happier workplace.

There are reasons why some are so aggressive at work, some are chill, some are slow and some think too much at work. What are you? Find out more with our workplace-focused behavioural assessment for free.

Discover how you see yourself, how others perceive you, and your ideal professional image through a workplace assessment.

Public behaviour

Describes the way individuals behave, communicate, and engage with others in scenarios involving larger groups or the general public.

Private behaviour

Relates to how individuals act in intimate or personal settings, where the audience is confined to a smaller, more familiar group, or when alone.

Perceived behaviour

Refers to how individuals are perceived by others based on their observable actions, communication style, and interactions.

Study reveals that a whopping 85% of individuals lack a true understanding of themselves.

Boost your self-awareness in just 30 minutes, and it's completely free!

Take a Free Assessment Now

